International Mother Language Day Observation 28.02.2020

NOTICE

REPORT

International Mother Language Day in 2020 was organized on 28.02.2020 by the Department of Bengali in collaboration with the Cultural Sub-Committee. The programme began at 12 noon at Room no. 16. After the inauguration with the lighting of the ceremonial lamp and the felicitation of the guests, the inaugural address was delivered by Dr Madhumita Basu, Head of the Department of Bengali. The International Mother Language Day was observed to commemorate the sacrifice of the Bengali language martyrs. On this historic occasion, the students delivered speeches on the importance of the mother language and the vernacular in a globalized world. They also recited Bengali poems, sang songs and performed dance recitals to celebrate their native heritage. The President of the Governing Body and the founder of the college Dr Anindya Kishor Bhaumik, along with other members of the GB, graced the occasion and delivered lectures on the significance of this day. The other faculty members of the Bengali department, Dipankar Sarkar and Surajit Mondal also delivered speeches and inspired the students to preserve the legacy of their mother language and respect all languages of the world.
