Report of the Tree Plantation Programme on the occasion of Vanamahotsav

On July 5, 2019, NSS Unit 1 of Swarnamoyee Jogendranath Mahavidyalaya organized a Vanamahotsav Observance programme in our adopted village, Amdabad Madyapally, aiming to foster a rejuvenated and salubrious environment. At 2 p.m., 47 dedicated NSS volunteers, comprising 29 girls and 18 boys, ventured into the nearby adopted village. Through this initiative, the program endeavored to instill awareness among members of NSS units, college students, and villagers about environmental pollution while inspiring them to partake in tree plantation activities. This concerted effort not only aimed to enhance the green cover of the region but also sought to nurture a sense of environmental stewardship among the participants. Furthermore, beyond the act of planting trees, the program aspired to sow seeds of consciousness and responsibility toward environmental conservation, thereby fostering a sustainable and healthier habitat for current and future generations.

Report of Aranya Saptah Celebration

A plantation programme was held in 16th July, 2019 at 11 am in Swarnamoyee Jogendranath Mahavidyalaya by the NSS unit-1 and Students' Welfare Committee, in collaboration with Department of Geography. The programme was divided into two parts. The first part was a lecture programme on afforestation, and the second part was a plantation around college premises. The programme was started by the lecture of NSS Officer Parimal Mandal. He gave a brief speech on what the duty of students is on plantations. Then Mr. Aparesh Mondal and Mr. Moyazzem Hossain Mondal gave their valuable lectures on how afforestation is a crucial tool for environmental protection and sustainable development. By planting more trees, we can combat climate change, prevent soil erosion, and promote biodiversity. After the end of the lecture programme NSS programme officer Parimal Mandal and 55 NSS volunteers along with students joined the plantation programme adjacent area of our college. The programme was completed after an hour of planting various types of plants. Through the lecture, students and present others become aware of the importance of trees and green spaces in mitigating climate change, improving air quality, and preserving biodiversity. Involving students in a plantation program adjacent area to the college fosters a sense of community involvement and responsibility towards the environment.

The first speaker was Prof. Moyazem Hossain Mondal, Assistant Professor of History. In his talk, Prof. Hossain Mondal made us aware of the ways in which dengue is transmitted, and precautions and preventive measures that we can take against the spread of the disease. A powerpoint presentation highlighting the main points was shown to the audience.

The next speaker was Mr. Binoy Kumar Gayen, Clerk. Mr Gayen made us aware of the things we can each do on an everyday basis in our own small way to prevent the spread of dengue. If we can make it a habit to keep our surroundings, we will automatically inspire others around us to follow suit. Little by little, it will be possible to make a big difference in fighting the disease effectively.

The last speaker on the theme was Mr. Subrata Bera, Head Clerk. Mr Bera made us aware of the fact that the only resource we need to spend in preventing dengue is our time. We must first decide to devote some of our time for the benefit of our community, be proactive in spreading awareness about the issue, and soon enough we will make an impact. A total of 65 participants including students, staff and local villagers were present the programme.

Outcome:

- I. Participants gained a better understanding of dengue fever, its symptoms, transmission methods, and preventive measures.
- II. Attendees learnt specific actions they can take to reduce the risk of dengue, such as eliminating stagnant water sources where mosquitoes breed.
