Report of Aranya Saptah (Forest Week) observation

The NSS unit and Students' Welfare Committee of Swarnamoyee Jogendranath Mahavidyalaya organized an Aranya Saptah (Forest Week) observation event on the 14th of July, 2020. Due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the event was conducted online via Google Meet. The primary focus of the event was to raise awareness about the importance of forests and to promote tree planting activities.

Prof. Aparesh Mondal (Dept. of Geography), the resource person, delivered an insightful lecture on the significance of forests in maintaining ecological balance and combating climate change. The lecture emphasized the role of individual actions in environmental conservation and encouraged participants to take proactive steps in preserving their local environment.

Participants, including students, NSS volunteers, and villagers, engaged in an interactive discussion with Aparesh Mondal. Next part of event was plantation saplings. Keeping in mind the risk to participants' health due to covid-19, participants were encouraged to plant saplings in their own house areas. A total of 35 students joined alongwith NSS volunteers and villagers. After the plantation the programme ended.

Outcome:

- I). This programme promoted environmental awareness, educates participants about forests and their importance, encouraged active participation in conservation efforts, and fosters a sense of responsibility towards the environment.
- II), It enhanced teamwork and community engagement, even in a virtual setting, as participants share their experiences and learn from each other.

Dear Sir/Madam

I am writing to you on behalf of the National Service Scheme (NSS) unit of Swarnamoyee Jogendranath College. In light of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, we recognize the importance of raising awareness about various health issues through virtual platforms.

We are planning to organize an online Thalassemia awareness program on May 8, 2021. This initiative aims to educate the community about Thalassemia, its implications, and the importance of early detection and management. Given Reyapara Hospital's commendable reputation in healthcare and community service, we believe that your support and collaboration would greatly enhance the effectiveness of this program.

We would be honored to have experts from Reyapara Hospital join us as resource person in this program. Your team could provide valuable insights on Thalassemia, answer participants' questions, and share best practices for managing the condition.

We are eager to work with you to ensure the success of this awareness program and to make a positive impact on our community during these challenging times.

Thank you for considering our request. We look forward to your positive response and to a fruitful collaboration.

Report of Online Thalassemia Awareness Programme

The NSS Unit of Swarnamoyee Jogendranath Mahavidyalaya successfully organized an online Thalassemia awareness programme on May 8, 2021, at 11:00 AM via Google Meet. The event was aimed at raising awareness about Thalassemia, its causes, symptoms, prevention, and management. The resource person for the programme was Dr. Sandipan Mishra, BHOM, from Reyapara. The programme began with a brief introduction by the NSS Programme Officer, who welcomed the participants and introduced the resource person, Dr. Mishra. A total of 38 participants attended the session, including students, NSS volunteers, and some villagers from the local community. Dr. Mishra commenced his talk by explaining the genetic nature of Thalassemia, highlighting how it is inherited from parents to children. He discussed the various types of Thalassemia, such as Thalassemia Major and Thalassemia Minor, and explained the differences between them. He elaborated on the symptoms, which include severe anemia, fatigue, and bone deformities, among others. The resource person also emphasized the importance of early diagnosis and regular blood transfusions in managing Thalassemia. He discussed the role of prenatal screening and genetic counseling in preventing the transmission of Thalassemia to future generations. Additionally, Dr. Mishra touched upon the latest advancements in treatment, such as bone marrow transplantation and gene therapy, which offer hope for a potential cure. Following the informative presentation, there was an interactive Q&A session where participants had the opportunity to ask questions and clarify their doubts. Dr. Mishra patiently answered each query, providing valuable insights and practical advice. The programme concluded with a vote of thanks from the NSS Programme Officer, who expressed gratitude to Dr. Mishra for his enlightening talk and to all participants for their active involvement. The session was well-received by the attendees, who appreciated the knowledge shared and the importance of raising awareness about thalassemia.

Outcome:

- I) The programme increased awareness about Thalassemia, a genetic blood disorder, among participants. This included understanding its causes, symptoms, and the importance of early detection and treatment.
- II) Participants adopted preventive measures such as prenatal screening and pre-marital counseling.

Report on the Webinar: "Biodiversity Conservation and Restoration"

❖ Introduction:

Swarnamoyee Jogendranath Mahavidyalaya commemorated World Environment Day by hosting an insightful webinar entitled "Biodiversity Conservation and Restoration" on June 5, 2021. This event focused on the critical issues surrounding biodiversity loss, the need for conservation efforts, and strategies for ecological restoration.

❖ Event Details:

Date: June 5, 2021

Location: Swarnamoyee Jogendranath Mahavidyalaya (Virtual Platform- Google Meet)

Occasion: World Environment Day

❖ Objectives:

The primary objectives of the webinar were:

- To educate attendees on the importance of biodiversity for ecological balance.
- To discuss current challenges in conserving biodiversity.
- To explore effective measures for the restoration of degraded ecosystems.

❖ Keynote Speakers

The webinar featured several esteemed speakers, including:

- Dr. Anirban Roy, Research Officer, West Bengal Biodiversity Board, Govt. of West Bengal
- Dr. Anindya Kisor Bhaumik, Ex-Principal, Bajkul Milani Mahavidyalaya, Bajkul, Purba Medinipur
- President, Swarnamoyee Jogendranath Mahavidyalaya Department of Environment, Amdabad, Purba Medinipur

❖ Discussions

Key points covered during the webinar included:

- The role of community involvement in conservation initiatives.
  - The impact of climate change on biodiversity and how restoring ecosystems can help mitigate this.
  - Innovative technologies and methods for tracking and enhancing biodiversity.
- ❖ Audience Engagement

The webinar successfully engaged a diverse group of participants, including students, educators and local people of Amdabad and Berimal village. There were approximately 70 students who have successfully attended the online programme. Interactive Q&A sessions allowed for lively discussions and provided clarity on complex topics presented by the speakers.

❖ Outcomes

The webinar concluded with a collective call for action to integrate biodiversity conservation into local and global environmental policies. It also emphasized the need for ongoing education and community participation in restoration activities. Some specific outcomes are as follows-

1. Enhanced Awareness and Knowledge Sharing

- Participants gained a deeper understanding of biodiversity's role in ecological stability and human well-being. The event highlighted the interconnectedness of ecosystems and the consequences of biodiversity loss.
- The webinar facilitated the dissemination of latest research and practices in the fields of conservation and restoration.

2. Community Involvement and Empowerment

- The discussions underscored the importance of local community involvement in conservation efforts. Practical strategies were shared for communities to initiate or enhance their own conservation projects.

Subject: Request for Permission and Collaboration for Online Dengue Awareness Programme

Dear Sir/Madam

I am writing to you on behalf of the National Service Scheme (NSS) unit and Students' Welfare Committee of Swarnamoyee Jogendranath Mahavidyalaya . Given the concurrent challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic, it is imperative to address other critical public health issues, such as Dengue fever, which continues to pose a significant threat to our community.

We are planning to organize an online Dengue awareness programme aimed at educating the community about the prevention, symptoms, and treatment of Dengue fever. This initiative seeks to empower individuals with knowledge to protect themselves and reduce the spread of this vector-borne disease. In this regard, we kindly request the permission and collaboration of Reyapara Rural Hospital for the successful execution of this programme. Specially, we would be honored to have healthcare professionals from your hospital participate as speakers in our online sessions. Your expertise would be invaluable in providing accurate and detailed information to the participants.

We propose to conduct this online programme on 10.06.2021 using Google Meet adhering strictly to all public health guidelines and protocols to ensure the safety of all participants. We believe that this initiative will significantly benefit our community by enhancing their understanding of Dengue prevention and control measures, thereby contributing to public health safety during these challenging times.

Thank you for considering our request. We look forward to your favorable reply

Report of Online Dengue Awareness Programme

The NSS unit and Students' Welfare Committee of Swarnamoyee Jogendranath College organized an online Dengue awareness program on 10th June 2021 via Google Meet. The session aimed to educate participants about Dengue fever, its symptoms, prevention, and treatment. The program commenced at 11:00 AM with a brief introduction by Prof. Arpita Majumder. The key speaker for the event was Dr. Santanu Mahapatra from Reyapara Hospital. Dr. Mahapatra provided a comprehensive overview of Dengue fever, explaining that it is a mosquito-borne viral infection. He detailed the different strains of the Dengue virus and how they are transmitted. Dr. Santanu described Symptoms of Dengue: such as : High fever, severe headache, pain behind the eyes, joint and muscle pain, rash, and mild bleeding. Dr. Mahapatra emphasized the importance of early diagnosis and treatment. He mentioned different types of prevention measures. Lastly Dr. Mahapatra discussed the current treatment protocols for Dengue, A total of 69 participants attended the session, which included students, NSS volunteers, and villagers. Participants actively engaged with Dr. Mahapatra, asking various questions about Dengue prevention and management.

The interactive session helped clarify many doubts and provided valuable insights to the attendees. The program ended with vote of thanks by Prof. Arpita Majumder.

Outcome:

The program successfully raised awareness about Dengue fever among the participants. The attendees gained valuable knowledge on prevention and management, which they can share within their communities to help reduce the incidence of Dengue.
