Objective of the event

The primary objective of the ICPR-sponsored one-day lecture program on "Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam: Socio-Spiritual Harmonism and its Evolution in Literary Tradition" is to explore and elucidate the philosophical and ethical principles underlying Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam. The program aims to provide an in-depth understanding of this concept by tracing its historical origins and scriptural references in Vedic literature and Upanishads. Additionally, it seeks to analyze the relevance and application of socio-spiritual harmonism in addressing modern societal challenges, emphasizing how integrating material and spiritual development can contribute to a balanced and prosperous society.

The program endeavors to bridge traditional and modern perspectives by fostering an interdisciplinary dialogue between ancient Vedic wisdom and contemporary scientific paradigms, highlighting the compatibility and complementarity between these knowledge systems. Furthermore, it aims to explore solutions to contemporary environmental, ecological, and ethical issues through the lens of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam, promoting sustainable development practices that align with the principles of universal brotherhood and interconnectedness.

Another key objective is to advocate for the adoption of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam as a guiding principle for global peace, social harmony, and international relations. The program seeks to encourage its application in policy-making, education, and community-building efforts. To facilitate this, the lecture program aims to establish a global forum for scholars, researchers, and practitioners to collaborate on integrating Vedic knowledge with modern sciences, promoting holistic and integrative approaches to solving contemporary issues.

The program also seeks to cultivate a network of knowledge sharing by creating a platform for individuals and institutions working in Oriental and Modern Sciences to exchange knowledge, resources, and best practices. This includes the development of collaborative projects and initiatives that embody the spirit of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam. Additionally, the program aims to reflect on the transition from modernity to post-modernity and the implications for society and science, examining the role of Indian Knowledge Systems in shaping a post-modern worldview that emphasizes harmony and interconnectedness.

Finally, the program aims to educate and inspire future generations by developing educational programs and materials that convey the teachings and values of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam. It seeks to inspire students and young scholars to explore and integrate these principles into their personal and professional lives. To ensure continuous improvement, the program will gather feedback from participants to assess its effectiveness and identify areas for enhancement, using these insights to refine future lecture programs and research initiatives.
